Linden

Discover an infusion of lime blossom with honey aromas and flavours, appreciated for its subtle fragrance, its sweetness on the palate and its slight tartness. Particularly suitable as an evening tea!

Ref. 202071

The European lime tree, a tree that can grow 30 metres tall and live for several centuries, is very present in our European forests. Its dried leaves and flowers are consumed as the herbal tea 'linden'. Linden tea is a relaxing and soothing drink, and is therefore especially recommended in the evening. The flavour is reminiscent of honey and surprises the palate with its sweetness.

This lime infusion is organically grown. The dried leaves and flowers are grown on farms that do not use pesticides or chemical fertiliser. By choosing organic tea, you are making a commitment for the planet and support a production method that preserves biodiversity, the quality of soil, waterways and groundwater. Let yourself be seduced by the special aromatic note of this organic linden tea.
